PADI SCUBA Review & Discover Local Diving

Been out of the water of a while? New to our waters? Feeling a little unsure about some of your skills, setting up gear, or proper out-of-air procedures? PADI recommends a SCUBA Review if you've been away from diving for more than six months. Also recommended is a local orientation dive whenever you are new to an area, especially if the area requires skills different than those you were trained with – for example, cold-water diving if you were trained in a tropical setting. We offer a SCUBA review (which may include an academic refresher) that covers the gamut of diving skills and exceeds the minimum PADI recommendations; and supervised local orientation dives to introduce you to the sublime beauty of our Monterey and Carmel bay diving environments.
